Safe Home & Housing Stabilization

With the assistance of a domestic violence advocate, an individual or family may be able to obtain emergency lodging/shelter in a crisis event. In cooperation with Safelink, a state-wide domestic violence resource, Independence House will help plan for the safest options available.

For survivors who meet a certain criteria and are no longer in crisis, Independence House offers stable housing options for individuals and/or families transitioning to a new residence in order to maintain a violence-free and independent life.

By application, Housing Stabilization options are available only to survivors of domestic violence. A qualified individual may become active by intake.

In conjunction with crisis intervention, seeking safety, and housing stabilization, Independence House will provide private and/or group counseling and advocacy to assist in your healing and transition process.
